"22 classics arranged for the C diatonic harmonica" is how the small print reads under the title. The written music also includes harmonica tablature so that you CAN use harps in other keys. And for many songs, you will want to do exactly that. For instance, 'Mother Nature's Son' off The White Album, especially the 'du du duuu du...' part which hits the 9 hole draw sounds like Minnie Mouse on a C harp. It sounds way better on a G or A harp if you have one. Also, there are a few of the songs that require note bending. I also play chromatic harp, and if you read music and play then you may want to try a chrom with, say, 'If I Fell' which has lots of bent notes. Speaking of music reading ability, though every song has harp tablature, standard music notation is used throughout. So, if 'Fine', 'D.S. al Coda', Outro and other musical terms are not familiar to you, you may want to study up. There is an introduction that gives short explanations for some of these things, but still, the music can be complex. 'Hello Goodbye', for instance, is five pages. The written music also has chord changes notated over each bar if you have someone with a piano or guitar who wants to accompany you. All in all, this is a good buy. There's plenty of room for personal expression in these songs, and Sony has done a great job with a tough task. If you want to learn Beatles songs on your harp, this is the way to go.

Songs selection is good, but when downloaded to my kindle, the print is so small I cannot read the music. I tried to enlarge the print, But was unsuccessful !

While content is good and of merit trying to use the book in kindle / video format is too cumbersome and spread out to be useful for easily playing the harmonica with the printed material.

nice selection of tunes
