I only write honest reviews regardless of whether I purchased a product at full price, at a discount, or received it free. Basically, when I review an item, no matter what I paid, I review it as if I paid full price. I count on reviews when I make my purchases, and realize others do the same. I would never want to sway someone to buy a product that I don't believe is worth purchasing. If my review is helpful, let me know by checking helpful. Or, if you find my review isn't helpful, checking that it wasn't helpful is fine too. Let me know if you have any questions about item, I can hopefully answer. Thanks for reading and have a great day!!
